

Revaz Korinteli "Dynamic Psychology: On the Psychiatry and Psychotherapy based on the Depth Psychology" II volumes

The first volume discusses the preliminary stage of depth psychology, its main schools, such as Freud, Adler, Jeanne, and relevant clinical cases are shown to illustrate the theoretical principles of these directions; Also the question of the relationship between brain and psyche from the point of view of modern neuroscience.

The second volume deals with the psychotherapeutic directions of Carl Jung and Roberto Assagioli. The subsequent period of classical dynamic psychiatry is briefly reviewed. Forms of meditation and various visualization techniques are described. Clinical cases described by Jung are cited in the book to illustrate the theoretical principles of analytical psychology.
